TO INDICT COAL BARONS

For Complicity in the Lattimer Shooting

WITH THE FURY OF A MURDERESS

Woman Had to be Quieted With Morphine—She Had Murdered Her Step-Daughter.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Feb. 8—The prosecution is daily adding to its great mass of evidence against Sheriff Martion and his deputies. It will make an effort to indict the coal barons as accessories in the Lattimer murders.

When court opened this morning Judge Woodward announced that for the second time since the trial began he had received an anonymous communication in reference to the case. He stated that the author was a scoundrel and a coward. He sustained the objection of counsel for the defense on yesterday and refused to allow Joseph Costello to repeat the remarks made to him by a special deputy sheriff.

ANTICS OF A MURDERESS.

Brooklyn, Feb. 8—Mrs. Martha Place, who is a prisoner in St. Mary's hospital, Brooklyn, charged with the murder of her step-daughter and the attempted murder of her husband with an axe, tried to escape this morning. She sprang from her cot and ran toward the door. A policeman on guard pursued her, but she resisted him with the fury of a murderess. She tried to get her hand on his throat. The policeman finally succeeded in pinioning the infuriated woman's arms and dragged her back to the cot. She had to be quieted with morphine.

Death of a Prominent Man.

Mr. William H. Willard, well known in this State as a banker, cotton mill owner and tobacco manufacturer died yesterday at Rex Hospital here. He was born April 9, 1819, near Lancaster, Mass., of a notable family. He began business at Charleston, S. C. He then went into the corn trade at Washington, N. C. He bought the Orange and Clover Orchard Cotton Factory and half of the Salem factory and supplied much of his products to the soldiers during the war. He was a partner in a large business at Wilmington and was for years president of the Raleigh National Bank. He owned the cotton mill at Willard's Mill, was president of the Morehead Bank at Durham and senior member of the firm of R. F. Morris & Co. there. He was for 30 years a director of the Wilmington & Weldon railroad. He was a man of untiring energy. He leaves an ample fortune. Many persons came down from Durham to attend the funeral, which was held at 1 o'clock this afternoon from the residence of his son-in-law, Capt. S. A. Ashe. Mr. Willard was a Unitarian in faith.—Col. Olds correspondence.

An At Home Yesterday Evening.

A delightful at home was given in Misses Webster and Miller, honor of two of Winston's charming young ladies, at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. H.B. Tatum on South Davie yesterday evening. Music, conversation and games made the hours pass lightly until twelve when the guests said good night. During the evening choice refreshments were served in the dining room. Among those gresent were:

Misses Hattye Watlington, Carrie Wall, Selma Lamb, Bessie Miller, Misses Gwynn, Mary Weaver, Margaret Rankin, Addie May Webster, Jennie Tatum. Messrs. W. A. Devin, Sterling Webster, T. L. McClaine, E. R. Wall, James Rankin, Bartlett Webster, A. G. Carter, J. H. Rankin, S. A. Thompson, J. R. Reitzel, C. P. Sapp, Alex Alford, J. T. Mathews, M. P. Troy, Herman Buchanan, Eugene McNairy.

The ladies will supply you with ice cream and valentine cakes at the Valentine party at Mrs. Bynum's Monday evening, but no effort will be made to induce you to buy what you do not wish, and the worth of your money is guaranteed. Come and spend a pleasant evening and spend as little or as much as you please.

EWART NOMINATION POSTPONED.

Senator Butler's Request of the Judiciary Committee.

Senator Butler of North Carolina went before the senate committee on the judiciary today with a request for the postponement of final consideration of the nomination of Hamilton G. Ewart to be judge of the western district of that state until he could have opportunity for the formulation of charges he will make against Mr. Ewart. He did not make known the character of the charges, beyond stating that Mr. Ewart was not of judicial temperament, and that he was not a lawyer of sufficient standing to entitle him to the distinction sought to be conferred upon him.

In obedience to the request the consideration of the nomination was postponed a week.—Washington Star of 7th.

The Charlotte Observer's special says: "Senatorial courtesy" carried over the consideration of Judge Ewart's nomination until next Monday. Senator Butler was not ready to proceed. He may or may not drop the matter, he said, at the next meeting of the committee. The impression here is that today's demonstration ends the opposition.

WARM TIME IN COUNCIL.

MEETING OF THE TWIN-CITY'S BOARD OF ALDERMEN.

The Hard Lines of Our Neighbor and Prayer for Deliverance--Fulk is Getting Better.

Special to the Telegram.

Winston, Feb. 8—The city aldermen met in session last night to hear reports of the different officials of the city, incidently and ostensibly to elect a market clerk to succeed Benton, democrat. The board is republican and elected W. L. Hampton, republican, to succeed him. A few of the fathers were moved according to the gravity? of the situation to vent their pent up wrath and to ventilate some fool opinions. It was stated in the beginning that the body should be non-political in its choice of the man, but alderman Hopper fully sustained his record for assininity by injecting in a most disgusting manner, politics into the election.

He stated that he could not get work, having been idle two years on account of his politics, which he cannot substantiate, that his brother had lost his position and been driven from home on account of his politieal belief and having delivered himself of this kindred rot, he stated that this was not the reason for voting for Wiley Keith who has the endorsement of the majority of citizens, but because he was pledged to the other man.

Frank Carter colored, recently thrown out of the school board on account of his gross immorality and failure to account for $160 intrusted to his person, in any other way than by saying it was stolen from him, (and if it was, he had to admit, while he was drunk) also delivered himself of a few sentiments.

For a city to be run by such assinines there must be some retributive justice.

In May we hold our municipal election and may the gods of honesty and public decency preside over the event.

The young man Fulk who was knocked from the train Saturday is doing very nicely this morning and the doctor says that if he continues as well his leg will not have to be amputated.

To Help the Cubans.

Communicated.

A letter has been received from Rev. Mr. Lomeillan, a Cuban missionary in Tampa City and its suberbs, making an urgent appeal for help for the 3,000 Cubans who have flocked to our shores as refugees.

Those of us who know what it was to be refugees during the late war can sympathize with them. Soup houses are being erected but the supply is not equal to the demands. Bed clothing, underwear and funds are greatly needed.

It is earnestly hoped our citizens will contribute to this cause. Other cities in the state are already sending funds for this purpose. The money or clothing must be sent this week, as the necessity of the case requires immediate action.

Any contributions may be left at Holton's drug store, Johnson & Dorsett's and W. S. Moore's.

Notice.

It is urgent that State and county taxes be paid at once. The money is needed to meet current expenses and state taxes. Will advertise land for taxes soon. Fair warning to all.

Very Respectfully,

J. A. HOSKINS, Sheriff.

NEW OFFICES.

Increased Demand for the Fabrics of the Cone Company.

The following circular letter sent out by the Cone Export and Commission Company explains itself:

New York, Feb. 1, '98.

Dear Sirs:—The increased demand for the fabrics of the mills represented by us necessitated larger and more centrally located New York offices. We beg, therefore, to notify you that we have removed to the commodious store, No. 89 Worth street, where we cordially invite you to visit us.

Very truly yours,

Cone Export and Commission Co.,
Moses H. Cone, President.

This is a pleasant evidence of both the enterprise of the firm and growing popularity of the southern-made goods which the firm handles.

Gorton's Minstrels.

Gorton's famous big Minstrels will be the attraction at the Academy of Music Tuesday night, Feb. 15th. If you miss them you will miss it. This is the oldest company on the road, organized 31 years ago, always presenting good old time minstrelsy and introducing up-to-date artists. Gortons are the only company that have always stuck to the first principles of minstrelsy, hence their success. They never use exaggerated vaporings, but do without a doubt give the cleanest and most enjoyable minstrel entertainment of any company on the road today. There will undoubtedly be a demand for the best seats which are now on sale at Gardner's drug store.

CONGRESSMAN MARTIN MISSING.

After Acting Queerly in the Lobby He Disappears.

A Washington special to the Charlotte Observer of today says:

Just previous to the adjournment of the house today Representative Martin of the Charlotte district, was found in the lobby wildly gesticulating and declaiming with some vehemence an imaginary speech. He attracted the attention of the pages, who were at first amused and then alarmed.

The incident was reported to the speaker, who called Representative Skinner's attention to it. When he reached him he found Mr. Martin somewhat composed. He had been in the lobby since 10 o'clock writing a speech. He had written four pages, but further than saying that the subject of it was a most momentous question, he declined to answer any question touching it. He left the capitol about 5 o'clock and has not been seen since. He rooms at 112 C street, Northeast, and at 11 o'clock tonight he had not returned to his lodgings.

A visit to the Salvation Army headquarters failed to discover his whereabouts and some anxiety is expressed about his movements.

The insurance amounts to about $10,000 and the loss is between $25,000 and $27,000. Thirty-five hands are thrown out of employment. The stockholders are E. D. & W. B. Steele and John Marsh. W. B. The High Point Machine Works which was adjoining plant was considerably damaged and would have been a total loss if it had not been for the fire apparatus of the Snow Lumber Co. The origin of the fire is not known.

The North Carolina rolling exposition car was side-tracked here yesterday and was visited by large crowds of people who were very much pleased with the exhibit. This car is an honor to our state and deserves the patronage of every North Carolinian.

A Prominent Educator Dead.

Correspondence Telegram.

Fayetteville, Feb. 7—Col. Thos. F. Drewery, superintendent of the Fayetteville Military Academy, died on Sunday morning after an illness of only a day or two. He was one of the most prominent and successful educators in the state—for years associated with the Horners at Oxford and had by energy and work management made his academy one of the most thorough high schools in North Carolina. His remains were carried for interment to the old family homestead near Boykins, Va.

The Fayetteville Military Academy will poubtless be continued, but exactly under whose management it is impossible just now to say.

QUEEN'S SPEECH DELIVERED

The Irish Parliamentary Party Re-Elects Old Officcers With John Dillon as Chairman.

By Cable to THE TELEGRAM.

London, Feb. 8—The Queen's speech says the foreign relations are friendly and does not mention the Chinese situation. It promises a local government for Ireland and says a treaty of friendship has been concluded with Abyssinia. The estimates which would come before the House of Commons, it declares, have been made with the utmost desire for economy, but in view of the enormous armaments now maintained by other nations, the duty of providing for the defense of the empire involves an expenditure beyond former precedents.

The Irish parliamentary party re-elected the old officers, with John Dillon chairman.

More Accurate Service in Greensboro Than Baltimore

Mr. C. M. Vanstory had his little girl's eyes examined in Baltimore last year and went with the prescription to one of the largest and best known optical houses there to have the glasses made up. FORTUNATELY one of the lenses got broken recently and was carried to the Greensboro Eye Specialist to be replaced. He saw at a glance that neither lens accorded with the prescription, and so changed them both. Mr. Vanstory sent the old lenses with an explanation to the occulist who had given the prescription and in reply received the following;

WHO OPPOSES THE BONDS?

Some days ago the Telegram published over a column of names and opinions from leading business and professional men favoring an issue of $50,000 worth of bonds to extend the sewerage system. Three men only were found who opposed such issue. They refused to allow their names to be published as opposing it.

It will cost just one-tenth of one cent a year on the dollar at the present rate of assessment to put in the required extension.

The town clerk informs us that the taxable property here is in round numbers $2,500,000. The $50,000 of bonds would bear 5 per cent. interest which would be $2,500 a year.

The present tax rate is 1.3 cents on the dollar; the new tax rate would be 1.4 cents on the dollar on the present valuation of property. As a matter of fact the increase of property values has already rendered any increase in the tax rate unnecessary.

The present indebtedness of Greensboro is about $150,000. The population is over 10,000. The present indebtedness of Danville, Va., is over $1,000,000. The population is about 20,000. In Danville property values are, we are reliably informed, about twice as high as here. Does municipal indebtedness decrease property value? Danville, with less than twice our population, has nearly seven times our indebtedness. The data for other towns is not at hand, but a gentleman who has looked into the matter says that tax rates are lower and the valution for assessment purposes lower than in any town of equal size in the state.

So far as the tax payer is concerned, he would never be aware of the additional indebtedness by the effect it would have on his pocket.

An increase of seven cents on the dollar in property values would make up for the increased tax. Does any man who knows ought of how towns are built, doubt that an efficient system of sewerage would increase the value of property more than seven per cent?

These are some of the facts and figures in the case.

Who are the opponents of the proposed issue of bonds? Is it the business man? We have been told so, but have been unable to find him. Some there are of course. But who are they? Is the workingman opposed to the issue? That statement has also been made but no workingman has yet entered his protest. Is it the professional man? He is not, as a rule, the man who opposes the progress of his town.

The columns of the Telegram stand wide open for sensible opinions of the measure. We shall be genuinely glad to have some man who is opposed to the proposed issue and knows why he is opposed to it, state his reasons.

Up to this time no reasons have been given that were worthy of a moment's consideration, under existing conditions.

The men who favor the issue have not hesitated to speak out when approached. Why should the opponents of the issue be more modest?

If the issue is unwise let us have the reasons.

If the issue is wise let us have the bonds.

The statement has been made that the board would reconsider the ordinance calling the election because the issue was sure to be defeated. How did the gentlemen of the board learn that the measure would be defeated? Where has any strong opposition to it been manifested? The names of the opponents of the measure would make very interesting reading. We will take pleasure in printing them at the rate of a column per day until the supply is exhausted. Send them in.

The statement has also been made that $50,000 would be wholly inadequate to the city's needs. Has not the city an engineer? Is it not the business of an engineer to make estimates? Can he not tell, approximately, what $50,000 will do and what it will not do? Has any estimate been submitted from which all these dire prophecies of inadequacy have been drawn?

Is any man prepared to say and prove it that $50,000 is insufficient?

Is any man prepared to say and prove it that the bond issue will be defeated?

Is any man prepared to say and prove it that the increase in property values will not more than balance the increase in taxes?

A sewerage system is an absolute necessity. Let us have no backtracking. Push the matter to an issue.

Last of the Montauk Tribe.

The funeral services of Mrs. Tamer Wright will be held at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Stryker, at 856 Atlantic avenue, Brooklyn, tonight. It is said that Mrs. Wright was the last full-blooded member of the tribe of Montauk Indians. She had always declared that she was born in a wigwam on Montauk Point, L. I., and that her father and mother were full-blooded Indians. When 4 years old she became a member of the Gardiner family and in 1816 took up her home in Brooklyn. She was married to an Englishman, who died when her only child was an infant. She had lived in the Atlantic avenue house for twenty years. She was a member of St. Luke's Protestant Episcopal Church, and its rector, the Rev. Dr. Swentzel, will officiate at the funeral services.—New York Sun.

Old People.

Old people who require medicine to regulate the bowels and kidneys will find the true remedy in Electric Bitters. This medicine does not stimulate and contains no whiskey nor other intoxicant, but acts as a tonic and alterative. It acts mildly on the stomach and bowels, adding strength and giving tone to the organs, thereby aiding nature in the performance of the functions. Electric Bitters is an excellent appetizer and aids digestion. Old people find it just exactly what they need. Price fifty cents and $1.00 per bottle at C. E. Holton's drug store.

One-Cent-a-Word

(Advertisements inserted in this column at one cent per word for each insertion.)

WE HAVE in stock six or seven dozen pairs of men's shoes that are very slightly shopworn; part of them have been on hand since last fall, some longer. For all practical purposes these shoes are just as good as if they had just come out of the factory yesterday, but a little of the new is off, and we don't want them in the store any longer. Experience has taught us that the quickest way to clear out stock of this kind is to cut prices and sell them for less than they are worth. We have also learned that a slight cut in prices does not have the desired effect, consequently we have priced these shoes so low that it will be worth any man's while, who cares more for comfort and durability than he does for style, to come in and look them over and buy a pair or two. Ask to see the cut price shoes advertised in The Telegram, so we can tell whether Telegram ads do any good, and oblige,

SEAMAN YAKE'S 100-FOOT DROP.

Falls From the Topgallant Yard, and is not Hurt.

Able Seaman John Yake, a hardy salt, narrowly escaped death aboard the British ship Lena, which is at anchor off Tompkinsville, Staten Island, yesterday. Early in the morning Yake went up the rigging to the topgallant yard, which is about a hundred feet above the deck. Yake had hardly got his feet on the foot ropes before he lost his grip and came whirling through the air, turning over and over in his flight deckward. He landed with a crash on a lifeboat, which was in the chocks, bottom up. The crew ran to Yake, expecting to find a mangled corpse. They found Seaman Yake hard and fast in the wreck of the boat's bottom. He had to be chopped loose before he could arise.

Outside of a few bruises he seemed none the worse for his experience and walked into the forecastle where he was sent to rest as a precautionary measure. It will take the ship's carpenter several days to repair the wrecked ribs and planks in the lifeboat, but there is nothing the matter with the ribs and other timbers of the frame of Seaman Yake.—New York Sun.

Something to Depend On.

Mr. James Jones, of the drug firm of Jones & Son, Cowden, Ill., in speaking of Dr. King's New Discouery, says that last winter his wife was attacked with la grippe, and her case grew so serious that physicians at Cowden and Pana could do nothing for her. It seemed to develop into hasty consumption. Having Dr. King's New Discovery in store, and selling lots of it, he took a bottle home, and to the surprise of all she began to get better from first dose, and half dozen dollar bottles cured her sound and well. Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, coughs and colds is guaranteed to do this good work. Try it. Free trial bottles at C. E. Holton's drug store.

"Strange, 'tis Passing Strange"

That all who suffer do not use

Mrs. Joe Person's Remedy

Hopewell, Mecklenburg Co., N. C.
December 1, 1896.

Last June I was suffering terribly from some bladder trouble which was so severe and extreme that the physicians said an operation would have to be performed and the stone crushed. I dreaded it so much and had so much faith in Mrs. Joe Person's wash that I determined to try it first and see what it would do. I applied it three times a day and in Thirty-six hours the inflamation subsided, the swelling and enlargement was reduced and the stone passed without any trouble. The stone was large and no one can know except those who have so suffered what it was. I do not believe I could have stood an operation and believe I would have died had it not been for Mrs. Joe Person's Wash. If any one is suffering from this bladder trouble let them try it. My pain would be so great that I would have to be put in a tub of hot water to relieve those terrible paroxysms of pain. It made a perfect cure of me. Oh, that everyone could realize what medicine is within reach and try it, how much suffering would be relieved. Mrs. Person herself does not say as much for the Remedy as it deserves.

Greensboro Churches Are Models.

A gentleman of much experience, both as a newspaper and traveling man, said this morning that he knew of no town where the churches treated traveling men so well. He said that here the traveling man was invited to attend church and when he went to church he was shown every courtesy and consideration. It was only last Sunday that three traveling men in discussing the churches, said much the same thing. This is a high compliment to our churches and ministers.

Dr. M. W. Hobbs, of Richmond, Ind., is spending some time with his brother Prof. L. L. Hobbs, president of Guilford College. These gentlemen are old citizens of this county, the doctor having begun the practice of medicine at Jamestown over thirty years ago. He now makes a specialty of treating the eye and ear.

Notes of The Prowler

"Just From Georgia."

Taking it into his head to visit Atlanta, the capital city of the empire state of the south, the Prowler boarded number 35 last Friday night and walked into the Kimball about daylight the next morning. Atlanta is some larger than Greensboro and the Kimball is larger than the Benbow, McAdoo, Clegg's or the Allen.

On the trip the Prowler encountered a pop-sheriff of a Georgia county. He boarded the train at Seneca, S. C., in company with two young Georgians, and the trio took seats across the aisle from the writer. With a dexterity that would do credit to a Mexican cowboy in drawing a pistol, the sheriff whipped out a pint flask of sparkling booze (called white corn in the Tar Heel state) and proposed for all hands to take a drink. The bottle was pointed at the Prowler first, who promptly, but courteously refused. The others drank and then the sheriff said:

"I am sheriff of my county—was elected by nearly five hundred majority."

I asked him about the political status in his section. He pulled his beard, shrugged his shoulders and said:

"Well, there hain't nary durn democrat in office in my county."

He then asked about Marion Butler, of my state, and I was sorry I had spoken. I told him Mr. Butler was still occupying a chair in the senate and with that I curled up on the seat and went to sleep.

***

Saturday morning was a rough one in Atlanta. It began raining early and the rain froze on the sidewalks. I was sorry about this because I wanted to walk all over Atlanta. Proceeding cautiously along the street which was not as level as a pool table I saw a man slip on the walk who came near falling. A wicked man standing near laughed at him as he grabbed an awning post and spun around it. The man who laughed then started boldly on and at the second step his heels went up, his head went down and his umbrella was smashed into a wreck. Then I laughed.

***

I visited the capitol building and met the superintendent of public instruction and his courteous and efficient assistant. I enjoyed looking through the state's capitol. It is much larger than ours, and there are numerous large portraits of eminent Georgians hung on the walls. I liked that. I wish North Carolina would do more to perpetuate the memory of her illustrious dead.

***

There are a good many North Carolinians in Atlanta. I met some of them and I was glad to know they rank well. Tar Heels always make themselves felt wherever they go.

***

I was in prison while in Atlanta—carried in by a policeman. He was very kind to me and showed me all over the large and commodious building which is the seat of the city's government. The police government and regulations are, it seems to me, perfect. The police have a regular armory, with lockers and guns, Winchester rifles, one hundred and sixty-six of them. The men on duty are required to report every forty minutes from stations on their beats, which is done simply by pressing a button. The whole force can be called together in less time than one hour.

***

Atlanta believes in going up. The Mutual building, just completed, is eleven stories high. The Prudential building, just started, will be twelve stories high. That will be higher than the tallest building in Greensboro.

***

I gazed with admiration on the handsome statue of the illustrious Henry W. Grady, standing in the center of Marietta street. This statue is Atlanta's pride and thousands of Georgians look at it daily with feelings of reverence for the eloquent champion of the "New South."

***

I saw the home of Joel Chandler Harris, the author of "Uncle Remus" and the best writer of negro dialect in the world. His house is of peculiar architecture and situated on a beautiful and picturesque spot in West End.

***

When you go to Atlanta and want to hear good music visit the First Methodist church. The choir is composed of a mixed quartette of highly cultivated voices. Mrs. Sheridan's voice is simply grand, a full, rich contralto, and many a lover of music has paid a big price to hear her inferiors sing. I was there Sunday night and greatly enjoyed the singing.
